Artist's Statement:

I took this photo while on a short canoe ride. I was aiming to capture beautiful lillies on the lake in their natural habitat. While I was taking this photo I was so close to nature and I came to the realization of how beautiful a world we live in. The brain likes odd numbers, so there are three lillies. This photo was taken in the Nearctic ecozone and in the Boreal Plains biome. If I could improve anything I would make it a bit brighter so the white of the water lillies would stand out more against the green of the lily pads.
